When people in other countries were living in caves and trees, as in the stone age, the noblemen of Aryavarta were resonating the air with beautiful and sacred chanting of Sam-veda on the banks of the river Saraswati . Over time, revolution came with the onset of Islam. Hindus lost their freedom, knowledge, power and digressed from tradition and religion. Darkness surrounded the skies of Bharat.

The powerful and rich descendants of the Aryas, at the end, became dependent on others from every aspect. Afterwards, Muslim rule vanished gradually and the Britishers became the sole rulers of India . Western education made the Hindus lose their mind and go astray. Hinduism has been an eye opener for many from time immemorial, has offered many discussions, generated many movements and solved many mysteries with regard to spirituality for ages, and has been the subject of debates for many scientists and philosophers . Now, the Hindu society is being ridiculed by educated westerners and the so-called western-educated distorted brain Indians as idol-worshippers and superstitious. Because the foundation of Hinduism is strong to the core, it still has remained vibrant in spite of political and religious revolutions.
